Associated Press Staff Writer

MANOW, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Red Army forces under Gen. Nikolai Vlasov, liberator of Kiev, were rolling over the flat terrain of Poland today after capturing the frontier town of Olvark and smashing their way across the pre-war Polish Poland border.

Polish towns and villages, including Olvark, a city of 10,000 people, were being captured by the Red Army. The town of Olvark, a city of 10,000 people, was captured by the Red Army. The town of Olvark, a city of 10,000 people, was captured by the Red Army.

Present Struggle For Air Supremacy Is Turning Point

Washington, Jan. 4. (AP)—The present struggle for air supremacy between the German and Soviet forces is turning point in the war, according to Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the United States Army Air Force, in the major turning point in the war.

"What American and Royal Air Force bombers can do to the German war machine once the German fighter force is destroyed is important does not concern me," he said. "The issue now is on which side first failure, weakness and loss is pushing power."

Arnold left little doubt as to the position that the United States will take the plane power of the Allies which would be the decisive factor.

The United States now has a fleet of 12,000 fighters and 10,000 bombers, he said. The Soviet Union has 10,000 fighters and 10,000 bombers. The United States has 10,000 fighters and 10,000 bombers. The Soviet Union has 10,000 fighters and 10,000 bombers.

DARK PICTURE GIVEN

Stockholm, June 5 (AP)—German military spokesmen admitted today that the West winter drive had failed. The German drive had been split by a "very deep penetration," dispatches from the German capital said.

The German spokesman was reticent in making no effort to hide the facts that the Russian offensive had rolled up the German defenses in the West. He said the German drive split into two fronts, one 300 miles and the other 400 miles long.

The Swedish correspondent said the German drive had a black picture of war developments on both sides of Germany as they met with the spokesman in the bomb-bombardment of Berlin with the Russian planes. He said the German spokesman in Berlin from the head of the R.C.A.F. said of Sunday as Monday.

The Germans indicated they did not expect that their army would be able to counter-attack successfully to regain its position, the official spokesman said. He also stated that because of the heavy

While one spokesman was pictured as giving a dark description of the situation on the eastern front, another was quoted as saying the "if an invasion doesn't come now that will be the biggest 'raid' of all time."

Asked to comment on the German Allied bombing attacks along the French coast, a foreign office spokesman described the raids only as "the usual attacks on the defense line," one dispatch said.

German reluctance to discuss the attacks seemed significant in view of the fact that Nazi "rocket camps" employment was again situated along the raided coast.

Increase Rate Tax Returns

Ottawa, Jan. 5.—(CP)—Revenue Minister Gibson said in a statement today that income tax refunds are being sent out as quickly as possible and added it is hoped some of them will increase the rate of 5,000 a day.

Between June and August 1962 the year the income tax division received the largest number of returns in its history and with them came thousands of claims for refunds arising from the forgiveness of one-half of the 1962 tax liability.

"Some taxpayers may have expected that some of the refunds

WHAT IS "BARGAIN" INSULATION?

Cheap insulation isn't a bargain because of its price. It is only a cheap imitation of the real thing. The quality of the insulation is what matters. Cheap insulation may save money in the short term, but it will cost more in the long run due to energy inefficiency and potential health hazards. Investing in high-quality insulation is the true bargain.

Garbed in a bathrobe over his pajamas, a long, flowing white beard and hair, and in his appearance, the traveller produced a pillow from under his bathrobe, and prepared to retire. Finally shaking off their shocked inattention, the attendants politely asked:

Dewey, Willkie Top Candidates For Nomination

By JAY HARTNEY and GUY WILLIE
(Copyright, 1944, by the Associated Press)

Chicago, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Wendell Willkie topped possible contenders for the republican United States presidential nomination in a poll taken among members of the party's national committee. The list of sentiment also placed a large number but not yet decided which candidate they would support.

"Revelation of the survey made the Associated Press during the past week," said the committee's executive director, Robert H. Taft, of Ohio 2; Gov. Charles McNary of Indiana 2; Gov. Earl Warren of California 2; Gov. Wendell Willkie 1; Dewey or Willkie 1.

The poll also brought out that 23 still were open-minded on the subject. The committee has 166 members, 139 of whom were present at the meeting—54 in person, and 85 by mail.

While many of the committee members will be delegates to the national convention, the selection of the delegates will be up to the full assembly of 1,000 delegates.

Meanwhile, republican committee members held President Roosevelt's name "well right," provided in his message to Congress recently, and labeled it a preview of the 1944 democratic platform and set out to construct it in detail.

Russians Nearing High Ground After Passing the Worst Of Pripet Marshes

PINCER MOVEMENTS

By HENRY C. GARDNER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Moscow, Jan. 12 (AP)—The Mikhal Vainitski's highly mobile front divisions, operating in the rear of the Russian sector to a wide area of miles or more in the rear, are sweeping movements today to threaten the Rovno, Pinsk and Kovel, the three main German strongholds of Vainitski's right and left wings.

From the north, the Russian forces of Vainitski's right wing are sweeping the German forces of the Rovno, Pinsk and Kovel, the three main German strongholds of Vainitski's right and left wings.

Tunisian Veteran, Lt.-Gen. O. Bradley, Named Commander U.S. Invasion Forces

NEW BLOWS HINTED

By LAWIS HATHAWAY
The Associated Press Staff Writer

London, Jan. 17. (AP)—The British high command, led by Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery, has praised the work of the U.S. invasion forces in Tunisia, and has hinted at new blows against the Axis.

Montgomery's conference with the U.S. command, held in Tunis, was the first since the U.S. invasion of Tunisia. In the conference, Montgomery praised the work of the U.S. invasion forces, and hinted at new blows against the Axis.

 in Canada and in Canada. The Ontario is the number one National War Service Commission seeks through the I.O.D.E. across Canada. St. Julien Chapter will collect here as many books as are given and also as much in donations as is needed for new books, for new books are needed as well as used ones and these can be secured at a lower figure from the publishers than the price at which individuals can buy them. In fact the Commission wants $100,000 in cash
 donations in Canada.

The local appeal issued on Monday
 calls for books that are not damaged, because there is no definite quantity of books and district, the people of this province will be able to prove their interest
 by freely donating books and making contributions.

Books are one of the necessities of an age which has found a new source of pleasure expanding more and more and human interest growing with the widening of these bounds. So the lack upon which the I.O.D.E. Canada is ready to give the labor is one that deserves the support of all the people who are ready to contribute. The condition and will serve a useful purpose in the library of a unit, in camp in far lands, or in the hands of the performers or servicemen
 of Canada are found.

The gifts in books and donations of the people of these parts can serve well in stocking the shelves of libraries in camps and on ships for those far away from their surroundings. A lending library at home. The interests of the service folk are wide for they are the ideal cross-section of the young, full of life, energy and enterprise, and engaged in the greatest service they can perform—in helping to bring this world from the grip of the devastating nihilism of the German Nazis. People at home can help fight Germany by giving money gifts for books for reading fortifies the mind, gives it the relaxation and the pleasure of the help to pass lonely hours for those who are on lonely missions in Canada or abroad;
 in hospitals, on the ocean, or in the camp.

Long-Range Forecasting
 Will long-distance forecasting of weather be likely to come? Will it be in the future, or will it be quick long in advance such a winter as this has been with a fair amount of scientific accuracy?

No was thinking so very much of what this winter would be like. At least no man known to me was forecasting that this would be, for the first part of the winter at least, marked by an absence of snow and therefore mild. But now, after the first it could have been forecast, all that person needs to do will be to predict what kind of this winter will be.

But seriously, it is held by some scientists that there will come a day when it will be reasonable to forecast with a considerable time ahead. Perhaps not as long in advance as the forecasts do their best, but at least in time, at least enough to influence the activities of people and serve a useful purpose.

A marriage person will not look too soon for such an age or a time when the weather will be what they desire. They will rather think that day of it off no doubt for the weather has a way of upsetting calculations, though the various phenomena which farmers pay respect to as unfailing signs of weather, such as the red sun, the clouds, the snow, and the red dawn as heralding rain and many other signs which the weatherwise are familiar with.

There is a certain pleasure in the variability of weather and even its uncertainty that an exact science could not give, though even long-distance forecasting would assuredly lead themselves to use by persons laying plans weeks ahead. In the realm of aviation the weather signs and records are of the greatest importance. It has proven so in war time and civil aviation after the war will depend as it does today on reports of weather conditions,
 though these are of course restricted today
 to the extent it is desirable to keep much from the enemy when necessary.

The war and the present method of gathering knowledge of weather conditions within the country or continent has given the greatest impetus to the collecting of the exact prevailing conditions.

 Knowledge is steadily increasing concerning air currents and the ways of what have been considered the whimsicalities of weather will be better understood. Greater knowledge of these facts will come as time passes. With aviation no doubt observation will become worldwide and knowledge of nature in respect to weather will be more fully understood. That if it comes will prove of benefit in many ways.

At present one has Old Probs to depend upon and he is quite accurate and one's own knowledge of weather by the signs which agriculturists know. That does fairly well as a guide but aviation is today
 taking more definite scientific knowledge with good results.

Meanwhile people will go on enjoying this unusual weather. The winter of 1943-44 is phenomenal and that it comes very rarely and that this winter of 1943-44 for some reason in nature has been destined to become one long to be remembered.

Eight-Day City
 The Russian embassy in Washington publishes a fascinating picture of the black days when Soviet industry was being transplanted from the invaded west to the safety of the Ural Mountains, relates
 The Minneapolis Star-Journal.

Ten thousand workers were unloaded at the station where one of the moved factories was to be set up. One Peter Lash was in charge of the work. At evening he summoned the workers of many nationalities—Ukrainians, Ukrainians, Ukrainians, Byelorussians, Tajiks, Uzbeks—into a field
 and made a speech along this line:

"You 200 comrades! For you, my friends, we can't build houses. We have neither the time nor the materials. But you've got to go on working. I give you ten days to do it. In after, all such things are done at the front in a few hours."

The next day surveyors laid out a plot,
 electricians put up searchlights for night
 work, freight trains unloaded more timber, excavators and shovels. In eight days the Russians had a city built underground,
 with the roofs of the houses above the ground and sloping to the surface. There
 were barber shop, laundries, bath houses,
 with the roofs of the houses above the ground and sloping to the surface. There
 were barber shop, laundries, bath houses,

Bomber of 1918
 In these days of Lancasters or Liberators
 almost around every other cloud is a startling contrast to the end of the first world war, when the planes were against the enemy during the last war—the F-2B for instance.

The F-2B was a two-seater
 fighter, but assumed the role of night bomber later, for good reason. It was very vulnerable from the rear, and its sketch shows how the field of fire at night quarter is blanked off by the engine, aircraft, and the rear of the plane.

The sponsors wish to acknowledge the many encouraging reports recently received and are happy to know that this great herbal tonic is bringing the same happiness to so many local and women whom the readers of this page know personally. The testimonial is the experience of Mr. Freeman W. Lock, well known shoe merchant in New York City. Read his statement:

"In the past year or so, I have suffered from a very bad heartburn. I was subject to indigestion and my stomach is a full, uncomfortable fastness, stomach and chest. After eating a meal, I feel as if a cold, sour liquid would rise from my stomach and I would have to retch, pains set into my stomach and I would have to retch and so I couldn't sleep."

Women's Missionary Society—The January meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Thomasburg United Church was held in the Sunday school room on January 11.

The newly elected President, J. E. Beaman, was called to order and conducted the devotions. Mrs. Harold Morton gave the Scripture reading, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Geo. W. Beaman.

The activities of the past year were reported by Mrs. Beaman.

The Thrilling Story of How Australia Was Saved

The article, by a member of the staff of the London Times, tells the story of the nerve-racking hours when the Australian and Australian New Guinea forces were saved from the Japanese in New Guinea. The story is a thrilling history in saving Australia. The story is a thrilling history in saving Australia. The story is a thrilling history in saving Australia.

By WILLIAM COURTNEY
General MacArthur's campaign to drive the Japanese out of New Guinea and in New Guinea is not only a military triumph but a moral triumph. The campaign is a moral triumph. The campaign is a moral triumph. The campaign is a moral triumph.

One day about in August he had three hundred aircraft on the ground at the airfield. The aircraft were on the ground at the airfield. The aircraft were on the ground at the airfield.

Well, the transports were in a heap on the airfield. The transports were in a heap on the airfield. The transports were in a heap on the airfield.

These landings were protected by a smoke screen. The smoke screen was in the air. The smoke screen was in the air. The smoke screen was in the air.

New MacArthur hoped that when he landed his troops in front of the Japanese. The troops were in front of the Japanese. The troops were in front of the Japanese.

When the three hundred aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air.

When the three hundred aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air.

When the three hundred aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air.

When the three hundred aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air.

Meanwhile, and then began the great winning movement over the Japanese. The Japanese were in the air. The Japanese were in the air.

We had to descend to within a few feet of the Japanese. The Japanese were in the air. The Japanese were in the air.

But then the Japanese. The Japanese were in the air. The Japanese were in the air.

I could see the great mass of the Japanese. The Japanese were in the air. The Japanese were in the air.

By the way, this is one story I must tell you. The story is a thrilling history in saving Australia. The story is a thrilling history in saving Australia.

So they tried to land only one. The story is a thrilling history in saving Australia. The story is a thrilling history in saving Australia.

When the three hundred aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air. The aircraft were in the air.

Success of Allied Landings

Hitler's generals have been outwitted again in the powerful amphibious landing on Saturday when British, American and French troops poured ashore south of Rome about twenty-five miles from the capital of Italy to form a beachhead which has since been greatly expanded. These powerful Allied forces are now in Germany, and the German beaching against the Fifth Allied army near Cassino and threaten the Germans in the south and north, the landing place. Rome is threatened by the strategy of the Allied command, and the German defenses are crumbling.

This operation was in accord with the long range tactics of the Allies which have been executed successfully on the east and west coasts of Italy.

The success of the Allies in amphibious landings has again been demonstrated and this has special significance. The landing in Sicily and the operations of capital character in Italy prove the thoroughness of the tactics employed.

The achievement of Saturday immediately showed results in the successful attack by the 5th Army near Cassino.

The event will have the further result of the powerful offensive against the Allies. The reverse the Germans have suffered in this will have its reverberations in occupied Germany and undoubtedly among the Axis satellites.

The Hated Gestapo

The sending of Gestapo agents into occupied countries only stirs the heart of the peoples of these lands and will in the long run make complete demoralization of the Nazi. Just lately Nazis in their fears have been sending into Denmark these hated agents, whose spies which would cause the greatest possible, rather than putting them under control.

The Gestapo is rightly the most being in the world. It is an offspring of Hitler's own destructive mind and mad ideas. These spies which would cause the greatest possible, rather than putting them under control.

privileged to influence the pliable young boys. There has just died in England, the author of the Peter Rabbit series of books, Mr. William Heelis, who was 77 years of age and lived on a sheep farm in the north of England, "Hill Top Farm." Armes' work and brain alike she has left to the lives of children and others. It is the finest reward to have left such a young life as this in a fairland, for the younger generation to love.

German Losses

(Chicago Daily News)

Figures on German war losses compiled by Col. Frantisek Mgrace, chief of Czechoslovakian military intelligence in London, have attracted more attention lately.

He arrives at this figure by estimating German losses in Jan. 1, 1943, as 4,000,000, adding 800,000 for the first three months of last year, which includes 400,000 at Stalingrad, 1,800,000 more on the Russian front from April to October, and 100,000 in the Mediterranean fighting. Thus of 2,500,000 last year, one-fifth were taken at Stalingrad and in the Africa victory.

Col. Moravice estimates that Germany has mobilized in all, 15,000,000 men, whom 11,000,000 were in service a year ago. Subtracting losses from either figure leaves 4,000,000 of men on the Russian front.

However, this figure includes police, engineer and other specialists, navy and army leaving and forces which suffered most of the losses, at 4,000,000 a year ago. Therefore, the land forces may have been cut in two during 1943.

Beach Styles

(Australian News-Letter)

Australia's sunshine makes beach wear important, particularly in the summer.

Last year a fashion placed on the manufacture of bathing costumes to conserve labor and materials for war production.

When early summer sunshine lure girls on to Sydney's beaches, some were criticised for wearing handkerchief materials, surrealistic in colors and patterns.

One athletic looking lass made her debut in a bathing suit of one-piece woolen, white and skirt she had worn when a child, and others she made from a suit belonging to her mother.

"I had no coupons left for a swim suit," she said.

In the season the position will have improved, because factories are now permitted manufacture restricted to their own in one-piece woolen, white and skirts.

Veil, plain, silk: cotton or latex and two-piece brasserie suits will not be made.

Bombers Roam

Above Capital

Almost at Will

An Air Base in Italy, Jan. 13. — Hundreds of big bombers and fighters of the United States Army, pursuing their reconnaissance efforts in the Italian peninsula, were seen today.

The other Italian bases were also active. The bombers were seen in the air over the Italian peninsula.

Swiss Report Says Forces Threatening Ostia, Port of Rome

No "Formidable" German Opposition Yet Encountered in 12-Mile Drive

NAZIS MOVE NORTH

Angels, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Allied forces have driven 13 miles inland from their positions south of Rome, but it was not specifically stated the invasion forces had reached the 12-mile mark. The advance is being made in the last under Allied domination.

The German newspaper Die Welt reported the Nazis plan to announce the arrival of their troops in the next 24 hours. The report also stated the German forces were now in the hands of the "Führer," and are threatening the city of Rome, which is 13 miles up the river.

The German forces made their attack at a point where the river is narrow and the terrain is steep. The German forces are now in the hands of the "Führer," and are threatening the city of Rome, which is 13 miles up the river.

Indication of Possible Action On Post-War Issues and Security Seen in Speech of Prorogation

Promises of Impressive Victories Over Axis' Brutality

REVIEW OF SESSION

By FRANK BLAUFITZ
 Chairman From Staff Writer
 Ottawa, Jan. 26 (CP)—The Parliament of Canada has given close attention to the post-war issues and security in its speech of prorogation today. The speech, made by the Prime Minister, Mr. Mackenzie King, was a review of the session and a promise of impressive victories over the Axis' brutality.

The references in the speech, read by Mr. Mackenzie King, to the "victories over the Axis' brutality" were taken as indication of the Government's intention to take action on the post-war issues and security in the near future. The speech was a review of the session and a promise of impressive victories over the Axis' brutality.

Reconstruction Report Tabled In House Of Commons

Improved Credit Facilities For Farmers Recommended By Committee

By JAMES MACKON
London, Jan. 19 (CP)—The House of Commons today tabled a report of a committee on agriculture, recommending that the government should take steps to improve credit facilities for farmers, and to increase the output of the agricultural sector.

The committee, which was set up by the government in 1937, has been working on the report for some time. It has held many public hearings and has received a large amount of evidence from farmers and other interested parties.

The report, which is the first of a series, is expected to be published in the near future. It will contain a number of recommendations, including the following:

- 1. That the government should take steps to improve credit facilities for farmers, by increasing the amount of money available for agricultural loans, and by reducing the interest rate on such loans.
- 2. That the government should take steps to increase the output of the agricultural sector, by encouraging farmers to produce more food, and by increasing the efficiency of the agricultural industry.
- 3. That the government should take steps to improve the marketing of agricultural products, by increasing the amount of money available for the purchase of such products, and by reducing the cost of transport.

The committee also recommended that the government should take steps to improve the general conditions of life for farmers, by increasing the amount of money available for the purchase of land, and by improving the housing and social services for the farming community.

Major Changes In Tax Structure After War and Provision of Work For All Able Men Objectives

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Ottawa, Jan. 19 (CP)—Major changes in the tax structure of Canada are to be made after the war, according to a statement made today by the Minister of Finance, James G. Gardiner.

The statement, which was made in the House of Commons, outlined the government's objectives for the post-war tax structure. It stated that the government's aim was to provide a fair and equitable tax system, which would be able to meet the needs of the country after the war.

The Minister said that the government was planning to make a number of changes in the tax structure, including the following:

- 1. To increase the amount of money available for the purchase of land, by reducing the tax on such purchases.
- 2. To increase the amount of money available for the purchase of agricultural products, by reducing the tax on such purchases.
- 3. To increase the amount of money available for the purchase of land, by reducing the tax on such purchases.

The Minister also stated that the government was planning to provide work for all able men after the war. He said that the government was planning to create a number of new jobs in the agricultural sector, and to provide training for men who were unable to find work elsewhere.

Major Changes In Tax Structure After War and Provision of Work For All Able Men Objectives

A modification of monetary policy, price control and rationing from time to time to prevent inflation, and the provision of work for all able men after the war, were the main objectives of the government, according to a statement made today by the Minister of Finance, James G. Gardiner.

The statement, which was made in the House of Commons, outlined the government's objectives for the post-war tax structure. It stated that the government's aim was to provide a fair and equitable tax system, which would be able to meet the needs of the country after the war.

The Minister said that the government was planning to make a number of changes in the tax structure, including the following:

RIGHT REPORTED EXECUTED
London, Jan. 19 (CP)—The House of Commons today tabled a report of a committee on agriculture, recommending that the government should take steps to improve credit facilities for farmers, and to increase the output of the agricultural sector.

The committee, which was set up by the government in 1937, has been working on the report for some time. It has held many public hearings and has received a large amount of evidence from farmers and other interested parties.

The report, which is the first of a series, is expected to be published in the near future. It will contain a number of recommendations, including the following:

- 1. That the government should take steps to improve credit facilities for farmers, by increasing the amount of money available for agricultural loans, and by reducing the interest rate on such loans.
- 2. That the government should take steps to increase the output of the agricultural sector, by encouraging farmers to produce more food, and by increasing the efficiency of the agricultural industry.
- 3. That the government should take steps to improve the marketing of agricultural products, by increasing the amount of money available for the purchase of such products, and by reducing the cost of transport.

The committee also recommended that the government should take steps to improve the general conditions of life for farmers, by increasing the amount of money available for the purchase of land, and by improving the housing and social services for the farming community.

Sharp Difference of Opinion In Majority and Minority Reports On Question of Family Allowances

Ottawa, Jan. 19 (CP)—A sharp difference of opinion was shown in the House of Commons today over the question of family allowances, as the majority and minority reports were presented.

The majority report, which was presented by the Minister of Finance, James G. Gardiner, recommended that the government should take steps to increase the amount of money available for family allowances, by increasing the amount of money available for the purchase of land, and by improving the housing and social services for the farming community.

The minority report, which was presented by the Opposition, recommended that the government should take steps to increase the amount of money available for family allowances, by increasing the amount of money available for the purchase of land, and by improving the housing and social services for the farming community.

Japanese Atrocities

Civilized mankind is shocked at the revelations of Japanese barbarism in the Philippines as told in the United States government statement of the atrocities perpetrated upon the American and Filipino soldiers and the American and Filipino soldiers who were captured by the enemy. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Great Britain said last night that British soldiers and sailors were taken prisoner and murdered by British soldiers.

The almost unbelievable stories of Japanese depravity have awakened the world of civilized people to the depths of darkness and evil to which the Japanese soldier's and militarist's mind will descend. Ever since the date of Pearl Harbor the world has had a new revelation of the cruelty and indifference of the Japanese soldiers.

Japan's so-called code of honor is one of the vilest and evil, and treachery and cruelty are virtues under the sun.

The world knows that the Japanese and the Japanese are the most vicious and cruel of all the nations of the world.

Washington and London are collecting information for the day when there will come retribution and the war criminals will be tried.

The treatment of the American and British soldiers shows how low in the scale of development and how deep in the mire of the Japanese mind the Japanese soldiers are. These atrocities can be blamed on the barbaric or savage nature of the Japanese and they have been justified for the satisfaction of the sadistic lust of the soldiers and every intention of torturing and making them suffer the most terrible cruelties. It was made cruelty by the Japanese and they have been justified for the satisfaction of the sadistic lust of the soldiers and every intention of torturing and making them suffer the most terrible cruelties.

Under German and Japan have never understood the great virtues of restraint and the civilizing influences of democracy. They are the enemies of the democratic nations' progress, their development, their energy and their acceptance of the world. How well the democracies stood up to the challenge Germany knows and so do the Japanese. The Japanese are the enemies of the world. The Japanese are the enemies of the world. The Japanese are the enemies of the world.

These atrocities steel the determination of the United Nations that there can only be one end to the war against the aggressor powers and that is unconditional surrender. These powers and the spirit which they cherish and which will develop must be crushed and eradicated. The whole of mankind by this time knows that the United Nations are fighting the war for humanity for the betterment of the world against the very spirit of evil of the Axis.

Italian Climate

Whether it was to be the poets, the tourists, or the Italian army, the Italian climate has been a source of trouble for the Italian army. The Italian climate has been a source of trouble for the Italian army. The Italian climate has been a source of trouble for the Italian army.

The Secret Weapon of God

One day two men were talking about the secret weapon of God. One of them was a soldier and the other was a priest. The soldier was a man of war and the priest was a man of peace. The soldier was a man of war and the priest was a man of peace. The soldier was a man of war and the priest was a man of peace.

One deeply serious assurance to happiness we can carry to the gates of Hitler's uncertain future. We can know that we will be bringing every true faith, every high hope and, even behind the stern and terrible face of war, every gentle, free belief man has ever owned or fought for. We bring them and they may not be defeated. For they are the indestructible weapons of the spirit of man. They are in all truth, the secret weapons of God. They have outlived every war and outlived every tyrant of the earth. It is this truth which is part of the feeling of inevitable defeat, which now comes to the soldiers of the Axis. The men, even though buttressed by the heaviest entrenchments of the powers of evil, are the secret weapons of God. He will rebuild, as he has often done before, his Creator's world again. And in it he will find ancient seasons of seed-time and harvest—and new years the more happy because they have been died for and awaited now.

Spare Parts for Body

(By Arthur R. Goudreau, in "Ottawa Magazine")

The body hardly and forthrightly carries many spare parts. It is a machine, and it is a machine. It is a machine, and it is a machine. It is a machine, and it is a machine. It is a machine, and it is a machine.

The brain is "wired" to every body part. Besides with strong emotions, it directs the body. It directs the body. It directs the body. It directs the body. It directs the body. It directs the body. It directs the body. It directs the body.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GOSSET
(Copyright, 1940, Edgar A. Gosset)

Not far away is spring, they say, and the black of April is just behind. But life is lived from day to day. And faith is needed now. Today must brave the winter cold. And wake at morning to behold. The black field and the bog. The green of the spring is just behind. The green of the spring is just behind. The green of the spring is just behind. The green of the spring is just behind.

HAMILTON MAJORS MOVE CLOSE TO LEADERSHIP

Trounce St. Catharines 11-5
With Discarded Jerry
Davy Leading Attack

Hamilton Majors came to within one point of league leadership in the second round of the Ontario Hockey Association last night by defeating the St. Catharines Majors 11-5. The Hamilton team, which had been in the leading position for some time, was able to maintain its position in the standings by the smallest margin.

The cause of most trouble for the Majors was Jerry Davy, a right winger from St. Catharines, who was the only player to score in the first half of the game. Davy, who was playing for three other clubs, was the only player to score in the first half of the game. Davy, who was playing for three other clubs, was the only player to score in the first half of the game.

The game was scored by Milton Brien, who scored twice, and by Davy, who scored twice. The game was scored by Milton Brien, who scored twice, and by Davy, who scored twice.
